

FINLI / BRAND BOOK

A calm, clear system for better money decisions.

Logo, colour, type, product UI, voice and usage guidelines

VERSION 1.0 / AUGUST 2026

Money clarity without the money jargon.

Finli turns everyday money signals into a clear, explainable next step. It is calm, useful and never built around pressure.

Promise

Make the next money decision easier to understand.

Personality

Calm, capable, human, optimistic and transparent.

Principle

Explain first. Let the user decide.

Know your money. See your next move. Stay in control.

A path that ends in a confident check.

The Finli mark combines a circular money world, a rising path and a checkmark. Use the full lockup for brand moments and the standalone icon for compact surfaces.

PRIMARY LOCKUP / USE ON LIGHT SURFACES

DARK SURFACE

CLEAR SPACE = ICON HEIGHT / 4

Always leave breathing room around the mark.

Do not crop, stretch, outline or add effects.

Trust first. Growth second.

The palette is rooted in deep forest green and lime growth, softened by warm paper, sky and peach.
Use contrast deliberately: lime is an accent, not body text.

Use ratios

60% warm neutral
25% forest 10% sky
or peach 5% lime

Lime on white is decorative only. Use forest text or a forest button for readable actions.

Soft geometry. Clear hierarchy.

Finli uses a modern grotesk with generous spacing and short, human sentences. The type should feel considered, never loud.

Money clarity

A confident next step.

Use body copy to explain what matters now, why it matters, and what the user can

Every screen should feel like one calm system.

Use rounded surfaces, quiet borders, generous spacing and one clear action. The interface should reduce financial anxiety, not add visual noise.

Status language

● On track

● Ready to review

● Needs attention

Avoid alarmist red unless the user must act immediately. Explain the issue and give a recovery path.

Calm is also clear.

Finli should be readable and usable by people with different vision, language, attention and confidence levels.

1 Contrast

Use forest or ink for text. Lime is an accent, not small body copy.

2 Language

Short sentences. Explain terms before using them. Support localization from day one.

3 Motion

Use motion to orient, never to distract. Respect reduced-motion preferences.

4 Touch

Keep primary controls large, spaced and easy to confirm or undo.

5 Charts

Label trends with words and numbers; do not rely on colour alone.

A garden, not a casino.

The current website uses a pixel-garden metaphor: steady growth, visible paths and small wins. Keep imagery warm, optimistic and grounded in real progress.

small wins

MOTION RULES

Reveal context progressively. Let paths, rings and progress bars move slowly. Avoid spinning markets, flashing prices or urgency cues.

Preferred subjects: everyday money, quiet routines, small progress, local life, light and open space.

Friendly expertise, never financial theatre.

Finli speaks like a calm guide: specific, respectful and honest about uncertainty. The product should help people feel capable, not judged.

SAY

Your spending on shopping is above the target you set. Want to see what that changes?

AVOID

You are overspending. Fix this now.

VOICE

Clear, plain, warm and action-oriented.

MESSAGE FORMULA

What we noticed + Why it matters + What you can do next

Make the brand tangible in one glance.

The product experience should carry the same rhythm as the website: soft paper surfaces, forest anchors, lime progress and one clear next action.

Anchor

One forest surface holds the important thing.

Guide

Lime shows progress or the next action.

Soften

Paper, sky and peach create room to breathe.
